American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA)

Status Report
August 5, 2009

[Refresher]

- On February 17th, 2009, in order to provide a stimulus to the US economy, the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) was signed into law.
- The goals of the ARRA include:
 - Job preservation and creation
 - Infrastructure investment
 - Energy efficiency and science
 - State and local fiscal stabilization
- The bill includes $288 billion in tax relief and $501 billion in local, state and federal fiscal relief and spending programs.
- The overarching purpose of the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act is to provide quick relief to families who are hurting, and to invest in projects that will create jobs immediately. As such, the federal government is working to allocate the funding as quickly as possible.
- The City Council was previously briefed on the Recovery package on January 7th, February 4th, and April 1st.

- The Recovery bill includes a number of different programs that provide funding for local government initiatives. Most of the funding is being distributed through existing federal programs with existing federal guidelines.
- The funds are either formula based (local governments receive funding automatically through a federally developed formula using a variety of different statistical information) or discretionary (local governments receive funding through a competitive application process – federal agencies make decisions).
- The City has already learned of its funding allocations through the formula based programs and is awaiting award announcements on competitive applications submitted (29 to date).

- No funds for zoos, aquariums, golf courses, swimming pools or casinos were allowed
- Buy America in effect absent a specific waiver from the federal agency director
- Davis-Bacon prevailing wage requirement
- Compliance with National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA)
- All ARRA funds will be obligated by 9/30/2010 unless expressly provided otherwise in ARRA
- ARRA guidelines distinguish between monitoring and oversight.
 - Monitoring is defined as routine, ongoing activities that evaluate programs separately and cumulatively, and are built into the normal, recurring operating activities of an entity.
 - Oversight is defined as meeting data collection requirements, auditing, contracting, grant planning and management, and investigating allegations of waste, fraud and abuse.

- Mayors (or designee), governors and other grantees must certify that ARRA infrastructure investments have been fully reviewed and vetted, and that projects are an appropriate use of taxpayer dollars.
- Certifications will be posted on www.recovery.gov, the website created for accountability and transparency.
- Cities, states and other grantees must submit quarterly reports on infrastructure investments including purpose, cost, contact information, rationale, and detailed information about subcontracts.
- Cities, states and other grantees must register with OMB at www.grants.gov.
- A Federal Accountability and Transparency Board has been established to track and review ARRA funds.

- Many programs included in the Recovery package, while not providing funding directly to the City of Dallas, provide funding to other federal, state and local agencies in Dallas which will benefit the Dallas community. Examples include:
 - the US Census Bureau
 - the State of Texas
 - Dallas County
 - Dallas Area Rapid Transit
 - the North Central Texas Council of Governments
 - the Dallas Housing Authority
 - the Dallas Independent School District
 - the Dallas County Community College District and other public universities
 - WorkSource Solutions
 - Parkland Hospital
 - the Small Business Administration
- The City of Dallas, in an effort to leverage and maximize the benefit of Recovery funding to the Dallas community at large, has established partnerships with these various organizations to identify linkages and synergies.

Efforts since April 1st Council Briefing

- The City of Dallas has not received any Recovery funding to date but has received notification of federal agency approval for some formula funds. Procedures for expenditure of these funds varies from program to program.
- The City of Dallas has received its first competitive award notification – COPS (50 officers, $8.9 million over three years). This is the second largest award amount in Texas and the maximum number of officers awarded to any city in the country.
- To date, $191 billion in Recovery funds have been made available and $70 billion have been “paid out”
- The State of Texas a whole has received $2,030,803,879. The State anticipates receiving $12,058,787,615.

- An interdepartmental team led by the City Manager has been meeting bi-weekly to discuss Recovery planning activities, status of applications, program requirements/guidelines and any concerns or barriers to timely implementation of Recovery projects.
- City staff and the City's Washington lobbyist have been continuously monitoring recovery.gov and federal agency websites for the latest funding announcements, guidelines or other pertinent information related to federal Recovery programs.
- City staff and the City's Washington lobbyist have been participating in a variety of meetings and webinars related to reporting and other fiscal responsibility requirements.
- Several council committees have been briefed on the plans for Recovery formula funding.

- The City Council has approved substantial amendments for the CDBG and Homeless Prevention and Rapid Re-Housing programs and has accepted funding for the Byrne Justice Assistance Grant and WorkSource Solutions Grant.
- The Office of Intergovernmental Services has been working with City departments to submit applications for the various competitive based programs (29 applications submitted to date).
- The City has held several meetings with representatives from our partner organizations to discuss the various programs in the Recovery bill and identify linkages and synergies.
- City staff has created a webpage on the City's website for all Recovery related information including tracking of expenditures, helpful links, etc. (<http://www.dallascityhall.com/recovery/index.html>).
- City staff has been building templates in the City's performance measurement system in order to track progress on the use of Recovery funds.

[Moving Forward]

- City staff will continue to monitor Recovery announcements through www.recovery.gov and www.fedconnect.net.
- The Office of Intergovernmental Services will continue to coordinate with City departments to submit applications for competitive based programs as new funding announcements and associated regulations are released.
- City staff will finalize performance measures for each Recovery program, which will be available for public view on the City's Recovery webpage.
- Performance measures will be outlined for the five baseline reporting requirements (jobs created, jobs retained, dollars received, dollars expended, and project progress), with specific measures created based on project specifics.
- City staff will finalize and publish an administrative directive establishing procedures for accepting, expending, monitoring and reporting Recovery funds.

- The City Manager will continue to work closely with the City Auditor to ensure that Recovery activities and procedures are consistent with federal guidelines.
- The City's goal in planning for the use of Recovery funds has been and will continue to be to help alleviate pressure on the FY 2009-10 general fund.
- The Recovery bill will create or retain approximately 45 direct City of Dallas positions from formula funding alone. In order to maximize employment opportunities for current employees receiving reduction in force notices, positions may be split to create part time positions where feasible, thereby creating twice as many job opportunities.
- The City Council will continue to be provided with regular updates on Recovery activities.

[Challenges]

- Short timeframes for implementation
- Dilution of existing resources and staff to implement additional work that results from ARRA
 - Significant increase in audit function to comply with goals of transparency and accountability
- Some unrealistic expectations regarding amount of funds and the availability of funds for non-City projects.
- Requirement of “shovel ready” projects

[Conclusion]

- City staff will move forward as expeditiously as possible to responsibly secure and expend American Recovery and Reinvestment Act funding.
- The City will continue to pursue non-formula grant opportunities for which it is eligible and that will be competitive at the national level.
- The City Council will be provided with regular updates.
