Central Library to celebrate Harry Potter release Saturday

The party starts at 10 a.m. in the Children's Center on the second floor

DALLAS, TX – The Dallas Public Library and the Hotel Indigo Dallas Downtown will celebrate the release of the seventh and final Harry Potter book from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Saturday, July 21, at the Central Library Children's Center, second floor Kahn Pavilion, 1515 Young St.

Participants will draw for the chance to play "Harry Potter Jeopardy," and other games. Winners will be the first to check out the new Harry Potter book and receive a collectible bookmark and pin set. Second and third place winners will receive a set of collectible bookmarks. The first Jeopardy game will begin at 10:30 a.m.

Children are encouraged to wear costumes for an 11 a.m. costume contest. Winners in age groups, 12 and under and age 13 to 18 will receive prizes. Participants will also receive a ticket to be entered into a drawing to be held at the end of the party. (Must be present to win.)

The Dallas Public Library operates the J. Erik Jonsson Central Library and 25 branch locations. A library card is free for any Dallas resident. For information on the many free programs and services available at the Dallas Public Library, go to: <http://dallaslibrary.org/home.htm>.
